Manley "Manny" Earle Hegle, 90, Gwinner ND, passed away Thursday, November 5, 2020 at Gwinner, ND.

Manny was born May 18, 1930 in Lisbon, ND. He was born to Hazel (Holmgren) and Earle Hegle and grew up in Gwinner. He attended school at Gwinner Public School, and graduated from Gwinner High School in 1948. Manny was proud to be the Salutatorian of his graduating class. Manny graduated from North Dakota State School of Science in 1951 with a Trade School Diploma/Two-Year Printing Trade.

Manny worked the majority of his career in the bulk oil/fuel industry. He was a bulk dealer with Standard Oil, Champlin Oil, and Phillips 66. He was a proud owner and partner with his friend Donald Colburn in the Gwinner Oil Company. Manny retired from Gwinner Oil Company in 1994.

Manny lived his entire life in Gwinner, North Dakota. One could never ask for a better ambassador for their community. His pride for Gwinner was evident in all the organizations he was a member of or supported. He was an active member of the Gwinner Civic Club, park board, fire department, Gwinner Business Association, cemetery board, and church men's group. Manny was a confirmed member of Gustaf Adolf Lutheran Church and was an active member of GA his whole life. You could always count on seeing Manny serve Lutefisk at the annual church dinner or wiping tables at the Gwinner pancake breakfast. Manny was involved in many projects in Gwinner to make the community better. He was passionate about making Gwinner a better place to attract young families to the town. Manny was a friend to everyone he met and he loved to meet people everywhere he went. He might have sealed the deal by giving his new friend a Bobcat keychain or some other commemorative Gwinner item. Every year he gave poinsettias to special people and widows in the community for Christmas.
